

Diary File Format

Syntax

Global

Start the document with a double equality sign. Padding whitespaces will be trimmed.

```
== Title
```

Parameters

name	required?	description
type	required	"calendar " + version
start	required	date this diary relates to as first day
count_from	optional	0 or 1 to set the counting of the first day (Default: 1)

```
type: calendar v01a
start: 1994/03/07
```

Days & Post

Days may contain as many posts as one wishes. They start with an equality sign followed by a date (e.g. 2015/03/17) or a relative day count (e.g. Day 1230).

Entries

Entry syntax may vary by the features the parsing application is offering. Also extensions might add additional syntax.

#tags and @Person_ references are expected to be detected. Users are supposed to be replaced by underscores. Dots and whitespaces end a tag. Tags and other references are case insensitive.

Example

calendar_example.txt

== Chris's Diary
type: calendar v01a
start: 1994/03/07

= 2015/03/16
